Yes, on a sea of trouble.

THANKFULNESS.

From a purely self-centered viewpoint, the people of the United States have much to be thankful for. Indeed, their blessings have been piling up in tremendous measure during the year just ending with Thanksgiving, 1915. Chief and foremost of those blessings under the conditions which prevail throughout the world is the rather negative one of freedom from participation in bloodshed. While a dozen nations, many of them so-called world powers, are now engaged in the terrible practices of war, the United States maintains herself in peace and all that peace means to a people. If, therefore, there is any single reason why the thanks of the people should be poured forth in full measure at this time it is that bloody strife has not drawn the United States into its vortex. The course of the nation has been so directed that the American republic has maintained its dignity while at the same time it was winning victories of civilization and humanity. By standing apart from the war the United States has been enabled to take a position of commanding influence in world relations. Practically single-handed and armed only with the weapons of peace, she has not been able to fight successfully all the battles in behalf of a staggered civilization; but, thanks be, she has been able to win some of them, and the influence emanating therefrom has had a powerful effect toward peace over the whole earth. That influence is bound to be an entering wedge for the ending of the war.

From a materialistic viewpoint, too, we can, if we wish, give thanks because of the abundance of the land, although here again it seems almost Pharisaical to indulge in that kind of self-congratulation. We are slapping ourselves on the back because we are not like the people of other lands, because there is a tremendous harvest, because our manufacturing is whirling at top speed, because our mines and quarries are giving forth untold wealth, because everywhere there is evidence of prosperity, while a few thousand miles away there is poverty, even dire want, suffering, anguish of soul, torture of mind, destruction. So it seems almost sacrilegious for the United States to be indulging in a period of thankfulness, for it is so thoroughly selfish, so self-centered, when all about us there is little or nothing for which the people can give thanks. However, a feeling of optimism is bound to come over one as he contemplates the conditions in the United States, and inevitably there creeps in a sense of thankfulness that we are as we are. Let it, therefore, be associated with the hope that another Thanksgiving time the entire world may be well started on the road to conditions which will enable them to give thanks also after the good old American custom.

is the average quantity in a healthy adult, but it is the quality of the blood that determines our strength to resist sickness. With weak blood we find cold hands and chilly feet; in children an aversion to study, and in adults rheumatic tendencies.

In changing seasons get abundant fresh air and take a spoonful of Scott's Emulsion after meals, because Scott's Emulsion is a rich blood-food that will increase both quantity and quality of the blood while it warms the body and helps carry off the impurities.

When multitudes of people are today taking Scott's Emulsion to avert winter sickness, and are giving it to their children, it is careless to neglect its benefits. Look out for substitutes. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

EAT LESS AND TAKE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful, effervescent, lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Adv.

PAVILION THEATRE TO-DAY.

Wonderful Story of a "Serpent Woman"

Unfolded in "The Devil's Daughter."

"The Devil's Daughter," pictured by William Fox, from Gabriele D'Annunzio's most exotic and famous work, the world-known "La Gioconda," is a screen play of tremendous force and unforgettable powerful in its depiction of an evilly beautiful siren, who, like the Lamia of ancient Greek mythology, is half serpent and half woman in her nature. Even if D'Annunzio had not insisted on the famed Theda Bara, the "Vampire Woman" of the Theatre Antoine, Paris, being cast for the part before he would sign the film rights over to William Fox, it is doubtful if anywhere on earth an actress could have been found, except Mlle. Bara, possessed of the febrile act and sinister beauty requisite to portray "The Devil's Daughter." Miss Bara's work in parts of this type has become world famous from such William Fox productions as "The Clemenceau Case," "A Fool There Was," etc., in each of which the French leading woman in the part of a fascinating diabolical temptress has won international fame.—adv.

Lime-Loss in Tuberculosis

In the Journal of the American Medical Association (January 17, 1914) was the following:

"It has been many times stated that in tuberculosis or in the pre-tuberculous stage an increased amount of calcium (lime) is lost, both in the urine and feces. In fact, a demineralization has been thought to be a forerunner of the development of tuberculosis."

Always we have urged users of Eckman's Alternative to attend strictly to matters of food.

In addition to rest and proper diet, some effective remedial agent seems to be needed, and in numerous cases of apparent recovery from tuberculosis and kindred throat and bronchial affections Eckman's Alternative has supplied this need.

It does not contain opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, so it is safe to try. Your druggist has it or will order it, or you can get it from us direct.

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She Mixed Sulphur with It to Restore Color, Gloss, Thickness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the sage tea and sulphur, recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.—Adv.
